3. General Cabell buzzed about another Regulation and is returning it to us for revision. It is the recent submission on the responsibilities and authorities of "operating officials". He sticks on the principle that an operating official may be able to delegate authority but regardless of the extent of such delegation he cannot relieve himself of the responsibility. Technically I think that he is right and the Regulation will be revised accordingly.

7. Last night I spent considerable time on the telephone with [REDACTED] John Tietjen, [REDACTED] John Bagnall, [REDACTED] and General Cabell discussing the incident which took place early Sunday morning wherein two of our employees were attacked in their apartment and one girl was actually raped. Shef Edwards reported that [REDACTED] of his office has been in constant touch with these girls and with the parents of the girl who was actually raped. They appear to be very appreciative of the Agency's interest and as far as I can tell it is all being handled as well as possible.
